

An excellent way of maintaining our hunting tradition is to introduce our youth to shooting sports. In CT, there is a competitive shooting league at the high school level run by Deb Lyman, owner of Blue Trail Range. <https://www.bluetrailrange.com>.

Unfortunately, this sport continues to be under pressure, with only 3 state technical high schools remaining with competitive rifle teams. One contributing factor, is the age and condition of the equipment, with one high school using rifles and sights purchased in the 1970's.

DSC Northeast <https://dscnortheast.org/> is proud to announce our support of Wilcox Technical High School's rifle team. In partnership with Brian Curry at Anschutz North America <https://www.anschutznorthamerica.com/> we were able to purchase 2 new high-end rifle scopes, as a start to upgrading their equipment over time.

Mark Damaschi is the Wilcox rifle coach; "The Wilcox Tech rifle team and I would like to thank Mr. Jason Tremblay and the DSC Northeast for the extremely generous donation of 2 sets of rifle sights for the team rifles. The team will benefit from these greatly and make us more competitive in our league".

We look forward to continuing our partnership in the future, and our shared goal of keeping the sport and hunting traditions alive and well with our future generations.
